FARM WOMEN URGED TO HELP CIVIL DEFENSE

Farm women were urged to take part in the Welfare and Ground Observer Post activities of Civil Defense by County C-D Director William G. Weaver Friday afternoon.

Speaking at a meeting of farm women held by the Adams County Farmers Association at the Historical Society rooms in the Court House, Weaver told the group: "There is a great part to be played in welfare work, in the mass care centers that will be established in churches and schools throughout the county in the event of an emergency. There is also a tremendous need for volunteers to man the spotter posts.

"As farm women you have another opportunity to serve, right on your own farms. Bacteriological warfare is a distinct possibility and an attack would be noticed first on the farms, from unusual diseases attacking plant or animal life. In the event you see anything unusual on your own farm, report it immediately.

"But the most important job of the farmer in Civil Defense is to provide the food that is needed by the nation. Without that food no war could be waged. The farmer did a tremendous job during World War II and in the event of a third World War would have an even greater job on his hands to provide the food and fiber needed."

Miss Teresa Murren presided at the farm women's meeting. Plans were made for a meeting April 15 at 1:30 p.m. at the Adams Electric Co-operative building, rear of N. Stratton St., at which a talk on the Welfare Services of Civil Defense will be given. Mrs. Calvin Bream will preside at that meeting.

Banquet Speaker

John F. Davis, Reading, who will speak at the annual tomato grower's banquet at the C. H. Musselman Company plant, Biglerville, on Monday evening, Davis, Reading mayor from 1948 to 1952, and widely known after-dinner speaker and toastmaster, again has tossed his hat in the ring for the Democratic mayoralty nomination there.

LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS SCHOOL PLAY ON FRIDAY

A near-capacity audience enjoyed the Gettysburg High School Senior Class presentation of "Girl Crazy," Friday evening in Xavier Hall. The show, upon which the Gershwin musical was based, was written by Guy Bolton and John McGowan, and the production was directed by Miss June Roush, art teacher at the high school.

Friday's performance of "Girl Crazy" went smoothly, and the audience had a thoroughly enjoyable evening. All of those who aided in the production, both on and off stage, of the three-act comedy did their jobs well.

The plot concerns Danny Churchill, a New York playboy who has been sent to the family's Arizona ranch, much to his disgust, to cure him of being a playboy. He is driven the entire distance by Louie, a cynical cab driver whose one thought is to get back to civilization. He meets, in rapid succession, Jake, the grizzled caretaker of Buzzard Ranch; Lank, the killer who runs the nearby town of Custerville; and Molly, the postmistress, who is the only woman in Custerville.

MISS SCHROLL IS CROWNED QUEEN

Miss Constance Schroll, a member of the Junior class at Fairfield High School, was crowned queen of the annual school carnival Friday evening that attracted a large crowd to the Fairfield school for the annual event conducted by the Future Homemakers of America there.

Miss Schroll was crowned at 10 p.m. after a procession in which her seven attendants participated. The crowd helped select the queen. The other nominees for the honor were Sally Ginnell, Nancy Weikert, Lois Sanders, Jean Sites, Grace Pryor, Joyce Hardman and Wilma Bellamy. Richard Crist was the crown bearer.

There were two concerts by the school band and there was an exhibition dance with a lighted baton by Lou Ann Zentz.

Friday evening's events climaxed a special "open house" there during the day and early evening.

There was a Mardi Gras dance from 9:30 to 11:30 at the school with music by the George Olinger trio. Free movies for the children were shown at intervals during the evening. Carnival booths were set up by each grade and food and beverages were on sale.

The crowning of the queen was performed by Supervising Principal George B. Inskip.

MANY PETITIONS PLACED ON FILE

Today and Monday are the "rush days" at the office of the county election board, clerks explained this morning as they processed a large number of petitions for places on the ballot at the May primary.

Up to this morning exactly 100 petitions had been filed. Clerks figured there are 574 candidates to be selected at the primary.

Petitions for entire slates were being brought in at one time in addition to petitions of individual candidates. The time for filing will end at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Biglerville today joined the ranks of those communities in which candidates will be listed for all offices by both parties. Petitions for the following Republicans were filed: Council, George A. Eckenrode, Russel S. Hackman, Robert S. Hafer and Ralph C. Taylor; inspector of elections, Mrs. Ralph Stoner; judge of elections, Mrs. Margaret Walter; auditor, B. B. Taylor; school director, L. W. Kleinfelter and Kenneth S. Alwine. Democrats: Council, Harold L. Smallwood, J. Willis Weigle, R. Dale Guise and Glenn Slaybaugh; inspector of elections, Mrs. Mae Shillito; judge of elections, George P. Myers; school director, Kenneth E. Lawver and Donald A. Bosserman; auditor, John A. Lawver.

A number of county candidates also filed petitions including R. L. Pittenturf, York Springs, Democrat, and Carl Menchey, Gettysburg, Republican, for register and recorder; Edward J. Sneringer, Conewago Twp., Democrat, and Willis Snyder, Gettysburg R. 1, Republican, for commissioner.

GODDARD URGES PROTECTION OF WATER SUPPLY

Maurice K. Goddard, Pennsylvania's Secretary of Forests and Waters, told 100 fire wardens from the Michaux district gathered Friday evening for their annual dinner-meeting at the Hotel Gettysburg: "As foresters and wardens one of your gravest responsibilities is the protection of the watershed and the first and foremost way in which you protect the state's water resources is by preventing fires, or by getting them under control quickly when they start.

"Timber is an important resource of our commonwealth, wildlife conservation is important, recreation is important, but basically our greatest interest is in water, and we get our water from our mountain forests, our watersheds.

"You wardens are the backbone of forestry. We at the administrative level can make all kinds of plans, but they mean little unless you carry them out. Perhaps you are worried because there has been a change of administration. Naturally there are always changes. As wardens you have seen many changes, in personnel and in methods. But our interest has always been the same. The fundamental philosophy of doing as good a job as possible has always been the basic theme of the forestry work."

Control Ground Water
Goddard also told the group, "Water is a basic necessity for the people of the commonwealth and for industry. As a result the commonwealth has always claimed control over the streams. No man has had a right to dam off a stream and keep water from his neighbor. Now we have also reached a point where we

Campaign To Raise $250,000 For Hospital Addition Will Be Conducted From May 10-20

The campaign to raise $250,000 to construct the first wing of the new additions to the Annie M. Warner Hospital, embodied in its $600,000 long-range program, will be conducted throughout Adams County and the area served by the hospital May 10 to 20.

The dates were set by the board of directors at a special meeting in the board room of the hospital Friday evening.

The directors decided not to engage professional fund raisers to conduct the campaign so that every dollar contributed will go for the purpose for which it is contributed.

SAYS PAY IS NOT TOP FACTOR IN PICKING CAREER

Fursuant to this decision, the county and adjacent areas will be organized with a district fund chairman and with sub-chairmen to cover all divisions of each area. It is expected that nearly 400 people will be enlisted in the campaign.

"Community Responsibility"

"The matter of providing adequate hospital facilities is strictly a community responsibility and it is our belief that Adams County and the adjacent area served by the Warner Hospital can and will meet this challenge," President Richard W. Livingston told the directors.

"While we hope to have construction of the first unit underway by July 1 or before, it must be emphasized that the project cannot be started until $250,000 is on hand to pay for it," the hospital president declared.

The directors have engaged the Buchart Engineering Company, York, as architects and designers of the new building which will provide eight modern wards each with four beds and bath.

In the meantime, literature and campaign material explaining the needs of the hospital, its overcrowded condition and the long-range expansion program that is required, are being prepared. Also, campaign committees are being organized in all sections of the county and the adjacent areas served by the hospital.

Choose Career Carefully
"You will be happiest if you love your job rather than love the money it brings. And so we all hope you will consider all sides of any career—particularly its spiritual value as well as the money it returns."

As he opened his remarks, Dr. Langsam welcomed the students and the career consultants to Gettysburg College, "one of the oldest and best in Pennsylvania." He continued: "We are proud of our college's academic standing, its athletic prowess and its participation in community affairs. One of our ways of participating in community affairs is to act as host for this splendid career conference.

"It is our hope that you may be able to go about making your choice carefully and thoughtfully, not hazily."

GOC "ALERT" IS HELD TODAY

Adams County's spotter posts were being manned especially today as the county participated in a general "alert" of the Ground Observation Corps throughout the eastern United States.

"Operation Sky Train," the code name given by the Eastern Air Defense Force command, began at 8 o'clock this morning and will continue until 8 o'clock tonight.

County GOC Chief Howard W. Armor said a number of armed forces planes will patrol the area.

Capt. Earl M. Wysong Jr., commander of the 4670th Ground Observer Squadron, Baltimore, said the exercise is being held "to increase the operational efficiency of the Ground Observer Corps."

Normal operational procedure will be in use throughout the test. The program is designed to give the spotters an opportunity to report a number of different planes under varied conditions to become more familiar with the method used in reporting.

Armor said that "special efforts have to be made to have a full complement of spotters on duty at the various posts throughout the county today" and cited the need for additional volunteers. Radar can be blocked by mechanical and electronic means and by keeping planes at a low level.

THREE YOUTHS HURT IN CRASH

Three Taneytown youths were injured when their car overturned two miles west of Fairfield on the Zora Rd. at 3:0 o'clock this morning.

State Police said the injured were Robert Francis Sentz, 19; Francis McNair, 20, and Elmer Rippeon, 20, all of Taneytown. They suffered contusions, lacerations and abrasions and were treated at the Warner Hospital.

According to police, Sentz was driving west with McNair and Rippeon passengers in the car, when it ran off the side of the road, then crossed the road, struck several guard rails and turned over. Damage to the auto was estimated at $700.

Police also reported this morning an accident occurring Thursday morning at 11:45 o'clock 2 1/2 miles north of York Springs on the Harrisburg Rd.

classes, badminton tournaments, etc., and advertises in New York for customers. An assortment of girls come out to stay at the ranch, including Tess, Danny's old flame, and Rose, a Brooklyn telephone operator on vacation. A less-welcome visitor is Sam Mason, an old enemy of Danny.

Here the plot divides into two sub-plots. In the first, Danny woos Molly, who doubts his sincerity. Matters are complicated by Tess, who chases Danny, and Sam, who does his best to turn Molly against Danny. The other part concerns Louie, who is elected sheriff of the county because everyone else is scared of Lank. He spends the last two acts hiding from Lank and his Mexican henchman, Pete, and from Rose, who has developed a crush on him.

"All Ends Well"

In the end all ends well. Louie is saved by the timely intervention of Danny, Eaglerock, a college-graduate Indian, and Lieut. Caddigan of the state police, and he decides that the safe life as sheriff, with Rose, is not too bad. Sam admits that he's been a heel, and Molly agrees to marry Danny. Tess and Sam pair off neatly as a third couple.

The parts of Danny and Molly were played by Henry Fox and Dolores Burner. Most of the laughs came from some effective character acting by Herman Smith as Jake, the caretaker, who rhapsodizes on the glories of the West at the drop of a sombrero; Carl Westerdahl as Louie, the cab driver drafted as sheriff, and Elise Scharf as Rose, the prototype Brooklyn belle.

Others in the cast were: Cloyd Spence and Thomas Gormley as Cactus and Lucky, two of the hired hands; Ted Crouse as Pete, the Mexican bandit; Geoffrey Langsam as Lank, the killer; Signe Wagnild as Tess; Robert Weikert as Sam Mason; William Swisher as Eaglerock; and James Singley as Lieut. Caddigan. The other girls at the ranch were portrayed by Nancy Ramer, Nancy Neth, Sandra Wolfe, Joyce Mehling, and Jane Donley.

The stage manager was Donald Moser. The prompters were Doris Witherow and Sandra Strausbaugh.

"WHAT GOD PROMISED"

God didn't promise . . . joy without strife . . . velvet-strewn roadways . . . to trod through this life . . . God didn't say . . . skies would always be clear . . . or that our days . . . would be void of all fear . . . God never said . . . ours was freedom from pain . . . decades of sunshine . . . without any rain . . . God promised only . . . that this life would be . . . tempered with hope . . . and the faith to foresee . . . flavored with strength . . . and the sheer will to do . . . power from prayer . . . to see troubles through . . . God promised things . . . gold alone cannot buy . . . rest for the weary . . . and love's lullaby . . . dreams for the dreamer . . . and laughter for tears . . . children to fashion . . . complete golden years . . . smiles for the young . . . memories for the old . . . wondrous eternity . . . yet to be told.

Court Meddling Is Problem In Russia

NEW YORK (AP) — The Central Committee of the Communist party has ordered local party leaders to stop meddling in Soviet courts. A decree to this effect is revealed in a copy of the magazine Kommunist received here from Moscow.

The decree forbids local party organs from telling Soviet judges what decisions they are to hand down. So far as can be discerned the decree says nothing about interference by organs of the Central Communist party, however.

BURGLARS USE MAIL

CHICAGO (AP) — Harold Hartzlett paid the postage on a package containing $135 savings bonds and some insurance policies stolen from his apartment.

The burglars who took them kept $250 cash, a silverware set and an alarm clock valued at $120.

NEARLY 500 AT TENTH ANNUAL GIRL SCOUTS' CELEBRATION

Close to 500 people attended the tenth annual Girl Scout Birthday anniversary celebration in the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School auditorium Friday evening which also observed the 43rd anniversary of Girl Scouting.

Twenty-four girls were the recipients of the Curved Bar, the highest award in Girl Scouting. They are Susie Blocher, Gloria Burgoon, Mary Ann Burgoon, Frances Miller, Hazel Krout, Jean Krout, Donna Reaver, Wanda Pettyjohn, Mary Ritter, Gerrie Roberts, Roberta Rose, Judy Ruggles and Loretta Study of Troop 39; Susan Baumgardner, Joyce Brown, Fay Fissel, Barbara Helwig, Pansy Knight, Suzanne Long, Marybel Marshman, Lois Shull, Loraine Snyder, Elizabeth Thomas and Nancy Yingling, of Troop 26.

A highlight of the celebration was the presentation of the tenth anniversary cake, with lighted candles as a token of honor, to the burgoons, Roscoe V. Rittase, Kathryn Morehead represented the Brownies; Elizabeth Eckenrode, the intermediates, and Lois Shull, the senior scouts, with the presentation speech being made by Miss Shull. In his acceptance, Burgess Rittase commended the Girl and Boy Scout organizations of the community, especially the leaders who give so much of their time and effort. At the same time, the burgoon announced that in the near future, he plans to begin a Civilian Defense program in the town, and will call on the Girl Scouts for assistance.

1st President Speaks
Also in special observance of the anniversary, Mrs. Brenda B. Walker, the first president of the first Girl Scout troop committee, was presented and spoke briefly. The first troop committee included Mrs. Melvin Wehler, Mrs. Roy Renner, Mrs. Charles W. Weikert and Mrs. Theodore W. Boltz. The latter has since moved away. The first troop leaders were Mrs. Carroll E. Arter, who is still active, Mrs. H. Dean Stover and Mrs. Leroy W. Bish. The latter was present and made a few remarks.

Mrs. Alvin J. Groft, chairman of the program committee for the evening, announced the program and introduced the special guests. The committee also included Mrs. William C. Karns, Mrs. Carroll E. Arter and Mrs. Betty Hill.

The program opened with a flag ceremony with the following members of Troops 26, 28 and 34 comprising the color guard: Susan Baumgardner, Nancy Trump, Barbara Helwig, Julie Ann Kammerer, Judy Myers, Edna Ealy and Ann Karns. The flag salute, Brownie Promise, Girl Scout Promise and group song "God Bless America" followed.

Council Officials There

Mrs. John E. Stambaugh is also a leader and the troop aides are Diane Stambaugh and Laura Stock.

Senior Troop 26 rendered two vocal selections "Peace of the River" and "Certainly Lord." The troop includes Susan Baumgardner, Joyce ant, with Mrs. J. Harvey Pettyjohn, Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon and Miss Lou Etta Miller as troop committee members, entertained with two songs "Goin' to Leave O' Texas" and "When a Good Girl Scout Walks Down the Street." Mrs. Arter and Mrs. Gouker made the presentation of awards and the troop members are Janice Breighner, Joyce Breighner, Judith Breighner, Sally Forry, Mary Gail Gouker, Julie Ann Kammerer, Judy Long, Martha Seiwel, Janet Sell, Shirley Showmaker, Susan Strevig, Betty Wallick, Jerry Lou Warner, Mary Rohm and Patricia Yingling.

Refreshments Follow
The token of honor presented to the burgoons was followed by brief remarks by the program chairman, Mrs. Groft, who called attention to the Girl Scout Week displays in the business section of the community. Troop 16, who won first prize in the district, has a display at the telephone exchange, as does Troop 26. Brownie Troops 11, 43 and 45 have a joint display in the John L. Redding barber shop window, which won second prize in the district; Troop 28's display is at the Littlestown Studio and Troop 34 at the John N. Sell store on East King St. Announcements were also made concerning the Juliette Low rally which the Scouts of the community attended in Gettysburg today.

Following taps, refreshments were served to all those present, with this committee in charge. Mrs. Monroe Morelock, Mrs. George Strevig and Mrs. Noah Strevig.

BREAK INTO JAIL
WILLIAMSTON, S. C. (AP) — J. T. Nichols and Sam Harper were sentenced to four months here after a city court convicted them of breaking and entering and instigating a riot.

They were charged with breaking into the city jail at 2 a.m. and setting fire to a mattress, causing a disturbance.

Richard Dalton, Michaux district forester, presided. Nearly all of the speakers took a few moments to praise Edward Hall, Buchanan Valley warden, for 39 years of service. Joseph Zinn, Hanover R. 2, warden for the Pigeon Hills area, was presented by Secretary Goddard with a certificate for 25 years of service. Maurice Resh, Hanover R. D., warden in the Hanover water area, received a certificate for 20 years service.

Great Fire Danger
Horace Rowland, chief of the Division of Protection, State Department of Forests and Waters, said: "The past three years have been severe seasons of dry weather and great fire danger, and there has been much fire loss. But when we consider the results in other states we find that our warden organization has paid off. As an example, Tennessee lost 1,500,000 acres of timber land to fire in 1932 while we lost 59,000 acres. The two states have about the same forest acreage, but our losses were much smaller, and it was due to the fact that we do have a good warden's organization."

Local Man Is Deputy
Ralph Wible, native of Gettysburg and deputy secretary of Forests and Waters, praised the wardens' work. "Love of the land, interest in game and fishing, are among the reasons why you give your time and interest to the work of being wardens. But whatever the reasons, you are doing a real job, and one that will someday go down in history. One hundred years ago there was little worry about water or land. But today there is more than a little interest in conservation. The late Mayor LaGuardia of New York attended a soil conservation session in New Orleans. He was asked why he, the mayor of a large city, was attending a meeting mostly for farm-connected individuals. LaGuardia's response was 'I eat.'"

Thomas J. Norris, chief of the division of nurseries and former Michaux district forester for many years, recalled "some of the old days 30 years or more ago." He also urged the wardens to recommend planting of "our tiny trees" to "your farmer neighbors."

1955 Girl Scout Week Closes Today

The Girl Scouts in the above picture were chosen to represent their individual intermediate and senior troops during Girl Scout Week which closes today. They are as follows: front row, left to right, Jeanne Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sanders, R. 2, Intermediate Troop 7; Brenda Minter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Minter, E. Broadway, Intermediate Troop 21; Gertrude Rowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Rowe, E. Water St., Intermediate Troop 9; and Delores Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Thomas Adams, W. Middle St., Intermediate Troop 3.

they also sang a song. The leaders presented their troop members with the awards which they had earned during the year.

The newest Brownie troop, No. 45, entertained with a rhythm band. The 30 Brownies, in uniform, also wore brown paper bag hats with green feathers which they made at a recent meeting, and green badge sashes with the Brownie emblem. Sally Ann Bankert was leader of the band which was composed of Margaret Mary Altoff, Jane Basehoar, Sally Bushey, Susanne Collins, Jacqueline Elder, Carol Flickinger, Jean Furlow, Linda Hedges, Jean Hornberger, Joyce Ann Hymiller, Linda Keefe, Judy Knight, Judy Kooztz, Carolyn Kump, Beverly Morehead, Larbara Muller, Peggy Myers, Loretta O'Donnell, Barbara Pittenturf, Martha Ritter, Marianne Rudisill, Linda Sentz, Carole Ann Stuller, Jacqueline Waganman, Suzanne Weaver, Kathryn Welkert, Susan Stuller, and Sharon Zumbur. Mrs. Edwin E. Elder, Mrs. John Kump and Mrs. Emerson Muller are leaders. Mrs. Paul E. Altoff, Mrs. Karl P. Bankert, Mrs. George E. Hornberger and Mrs. Emerson Muller, the troop committee members. The leaders presented the new Brownies with their first awards, World Pins.

Give Songs, Playlet
Troop 11 Brownies sang "White Coral Bells," a cappella, and they were presented with membership pins by their leader Mrs. Paul Luckenbaugh. Mrs. Clayton L. Evans and Lois Sparver are assistants; Mrs. Preston Myers and Mrs. Clair A. Beamer are troop committee members. The troop consists of Joan Barton, Ellen Jane Baumgardner, Jo Ann Beamer, Diane Bowman, Janice Evans, Carole Hollinger, Lois Hedges, Carol Long, Kathryn Morehead, Patricia Myers, Lois Nester, Grace Lunsford, Jill Weikert, Judy Wolfe, Nancy Yingling and Diane Walters.

Troop 13, Intermediates, whose leader is Mrs. A. G. Ealy, assistant, Mrs. Ralph Snyder, and troop aide, Edna Ealy, presented a playette "The Hungry Tribe." The Scouts appeared as Indians, with leather headbands and grannysack overalls covered with Indian designs. The playette included a War Dance by the tribe, which consisted of Sally Ann Basehoar, Linda Ealy, Bonnie Greene, Melinda Karns, Judith Shomper, Joyce Lee Knight, Barbara Llog, Nena Jane Luckenbaugh, Elizabeth Morelock, Carol Reindollar and Dorothy Forsythe. Mrs. Ealy presented the Scouts with their awards and Mrs. Snyder with a five-year pin.

Intermediate Troop 26 sang two songs, "Open Up Your Heart" and "Bonfire," with Donna Rabenstein as piano accompanist. The troop members are Carolyn Creawmer, Grizelda Hahn, Sandra Hawk, Linda Helbridge, Brenda Hollinger, Donna Kooztz, Jacqueline Morelock, Wanda Morelock, Donna Raenstine, Susna Reaver, Nancy Ruggles, Barbara Sentz, Carolyn Shildt, Esther Shorb, Bonita Storm, Joyce Strevig, Linda Strevig and Jane Wantz. Mrs. John C. Forry and Mrs. Monroe Morelock, leaders, presented the Scouts with their numerous awards. Charolyn Groft is an assistant leader and the troop committee members are Mrs. George Strevig, Mrs. Keith Helbridge, Mrs. Norman Hahn, Mrs. Noah Strevig and Helen Jacobs.

Fashion Show
Intermediate Troop 28 presented a fashion show, with oddities of their own creation worn over skirts and blouses. Gerrie Roberts was commentator and introduced these models: Carole Baumgardner, Wilma Baughman, Judith Blocher, Susan Bortner, Laura Lee Bowers, Louise Groft, Marietta Weikert, Judith Lippy, Donna Morelock, Judith Myers, Ruby Ann Myers, Penny Roberts, Jean Sentz, Shirley Hedges, Dorothy Krumrine and Yvonne Woodward.

Mrs. Walter A. Morelock Jr. is leader of Troop 26; Mrs. John A. Bowers is assistant and the troop committee consists of Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, Mrs. Arthur Roberts and Mrs. William H. Marshman.

Troop 12, whose leader is Mary Rita Redding, presented a dance "Mock Quarrel." Miss Redding was piano accompanist and those participating were Loretta Bevenour, Vivian Bevenour, Elizabeth Eckenrode, Victoria Harner, Theresa Krichen, Mary Louise Myers, Carole Pautenis, Carol Perdue, Diane Redding, Joyce Rinehart and Patricia Weaver. Maxine Rinehart is program aide. Miss Redding presented the Scouts with the badges they earned during the past year. Mrs. Harold Redding, Miss Anna C. Weaver and Miss Naomi Sanders are the troop committee members.

Troop 24, Mrs. Carroll E. Arter, leader, Mrs. Robert Gouker and Mrs. Alvina Groft Taughnbaugh, assistants, with Mrs. J. Harvey Pettyjohn, Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon and Miss Lou Etta Miller as troop committee members, entertained with two songs "Goin' to Leave O' Texas" and "When a Good Girl Scout Walks Down the Street." Mrs. Arter and Mrs. Gouker made the presentation of awards and the troop members are Janice Breighner, Joyce Breighner, Judith Breighner, Sally Forry, Mary Gail Gouker, Julie Ann Kammerer, Judy Long, Martha Seiwel, Janet Sell, Shirley Showmaker, Susan Strevig, Betty Wallick, Jerry Lou Warner, Mary Rohm and Patricia Yingling.

Present Playlet
A Pennsylvania Dutch playlet entitled "Crossing the Tracks" was presented by Senior Troop 39. Mary Ann Burgoon was the mother; Susie Blocher, the railroad man, and the other members of the troop the mother's eighteen children. Comedy was provided by Gloria Burgoon and the other children were Jane Barton, Connie Boyd, Carolyn Brown, Ellen Beck, Edna Ealy, Frances Miller, Peggy Ann Miller, Carolyn Harrison, Hazel Krout, Jean Krout, Donna Reaver, Wanda Pettyjohn, Mary Ritter, Gerrie Roberts, Roberta Rose, Phyllis Rimey, Judy Ruggles and Loretta Study. Mrs. Betty Hill is troop leader and presented her Scouts with their various awards, including 13 Curved Bars.

Mrs. John E. Stambaugh is also a leader and the troop aides are Diane Stambaugh and Laura Stock.

Senior Troop 26 rendered two vocal selections "Peace of the River" and "Certainly Lord." The troop includes Susan Baumgardner, Joyce ant, with Mrs. J. Harvey Pettyjohn, Mrs. J. Donald Lemmon and Miss Lou Etta Miller as troop committee members, entertained with two songs "Goin' to Leave O' Texas" and "When a Good Girl Scout Walks Down the Street." Mrs. Arter and Mrs. Gouker made the presentation of awards and the troop members are Janice Breighner, Joyce Breighner, Judith Breighner, Sally Forry, Mary Gail Gouker, Julie Ann Kammerer, Judy Long, Martha Seiwel, Janet Sell, Shirley Showmaker, Susan Strevig, Betty Wallick, Jerry Lou Warner, Mary Rohm and Patricia Yingling.

Refreshments Follow
The token of honor presented to the burgoons was followed by brief remarks by the program chairman, Mrs. Groft, who called attention to the Girl Scout Week displays in the business section of the community. Troop 16, who won first prize in the district, has a display at the telephone exchange, as does Troop 26. Brownie Troops 11, 43 and 45 have a joint display in the John L. Redding barber shop window, which won second prize in the district; Troop 28's display is at the Littlestown Studio and Troop 34 at the John N. Sell store on East King St. Announcements were also made concerning the Juliette Low rally which the Scouts of the community attended in Gettysburg today.

Following taps, refreshments were served to all those present, with this committee in charge. Mrs. Monroe Morelock, Mrs. George Strevig and Mrs. Noah Strevig.

BREAK INTO JAIL
WILLIAMSTON, S. C. (AP) — J. T. Nichols and Sam Harper were sentenced to four months here after a city court convicted them of breaking and entering and instigating a riot.

They were charged with breaking into the city jail at 2 a.m. and setting fire to a mattress, causing a disturbance.

Richard Dalton, Michaux district forester, presided. Nearly all of the speakers took a few moments to praise Edward Hall, Buchanan Valley warden, for 39 years of service. Joseph Zinn, Hanover R. 2, warden for the Pigeon Hills area, was presented by Secretary Goddard with a certificate for 25 years of service. Maurice Resh, Hanover R. D., warden in the Hanover water area, received a certificate for 20 years service.

Great Fire Danger
Horace Rowland, chief of the Division of Protection, State Department of Forests and Waters, said: "The past three years have been severe seasons of dry weather and great fire danger, and there has been much fire loss. But when we consider the results in other states we find that our warden organization has paid off. As an example, Tennessee lost 1,500,000 acres of timber land to fire in 1932 while we lost 59,000 acres. The two states have about the same forest acreage, but our losses were much smaller, and it was due to the fact that we do have a good warden's organization."

Local Man Is Deputy
Ralph Wible, native of Gettysburg and deputy secretary of Forests and Waters, praised the wardens' work. "Love of the land, interest in game and fishing, are among the reasons why you give your time and interest to the work of being wardens. But whatever the reasons, you are doing a real job, and one that will someday go down in history. One hundred years ago there was little worry about water or land. But today there is more than a little interest in conservation. The late Mayor LaGuardia of New York attended a soil conservation session in New Orleans. He was asked why he, the mayor of a large city, was attending a meeting mostly for farm-connected individuals. LaGuardia's response was 'I eat.'"

Thomas J. Norris, chief of the division of nurseries and former Michaux district forester for many years, recalled "some of the old days 30 years or more ago." He also urged the wardens to recommend planting of "our tiny trees" to "your farmer neighbors."

Major Gifford Is Transferred To Texas: Major R. W. Gifford, formerly of the staff at the Warner Hospital, has been transferred from Fort Meade, Md., where he was assistant chief of the medical staff, to McCluskey General Hospital, Temple, Texas. He will report the latter part of this month.
Major Gifford was commissioned a captain and entered the service September 4, 1942. Last fall he was promoted to major.

Council Adopts 13-Mile Rate For Taxes: Borough council Monday evening formally adopted a previously approved $43,100 budget for 1945 and passed an ordinance setting the borough tax rate at 13 mills—11 mills for general purposes and two for the special fund used to redeem borough bonds and pay interest on the bonded debt.

Legion Post Sets Record: The Albert J. Lentz Post of the American Legion now has the largest membership in its history. It was announced at the regular meeting held Monday night at the post home.
The membership "went over the top" with a total of 295 paid up members on the rolls. A second record was broken in the fact that the large membership was gained so early in the year.

Will Surface York St. And Bigler-ville Rd.: Two major road resurfacing projects for the county were announced today at the local office of the State Highway Department by Superintendent J. William Kende-lhart Jr.
The work, for which appropriations already have been made by the highway department, includes the resurfacing of York Street with blacktop in Gettysburg from center square nearly to the Rock Creek bridge.

Also to be completed is the re-finish with blacktop asphalt of approximately three miles of the Biglerville-Gettysburg road in But-ler Township.
Superintendent Kende-lhart said that no attempt will be made at present to resurface the present macadam road from Keckler's hill to Gettysburg because that stretch of road will have to be completely re-built as soon as possible.

Two Officials To Seek Re-election: One Gettysburg and one Adams County official announced as Re-publican candidates for re-election to their respective offices today.
J. Herbert Welkert, who is finish-ing his first four year term as tax collector in Gettysburg, is running for a second term. Mervin I. Rice, Bendersville, one of Adams County's jury commissioners, is also a can-didate to succeed himself in office for another four year term. Mr. Rice is serving his first term.

Wins Bronze Star Medal: Pfc. Walter E. Alwine, 26, of the Medical Department, United States Army, has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for his heroic work in evacu-ating wounded during the fight-ing on Leyte, Philippine Islands, in December, according to information received by his father, Edward Al-wine, Abbottstown.
The acts of valor performed by the Abbottstown hero were undertaken voluntarily and without regard to his own safety. He went forward repeatedly to evacuate casualties, the citation reveals, accomplishing the mission under heavy enemy small arms fire.

Today's Talk

THE START IS EVERYTHING
There is much to be learned from a horse race. The start is everything there. It's the same in an athletic contest. In a baseball game the one who scores first has a psychological advantage. On the other hand the opposing team thereby, takes on new courage and determination.

The most natural thing in the world is the dawn of a new day, yet few ever stop to think about it as one of the great miracles. As a boy I asked one of my teach-ers to sign my autograph album. This is what she wrote in it: "This day will never dawn again!" I didn't think much about that line at the time, but it has grown in significance with the years. If we live we will experience perhaps many new days, but the one today will never be ours again.

How important it should be, therefore, that this day should be notable, and it can be if the start is full of promise. I'm sure every-one likes to awake in the morning feeling well and happy. That is pro-phetic of a good and profitable day. It should be habitual with each one of us to thank God for each new day, and for us to pray that every one of its possibilities may be achieved. Let us enter the day full of hope and grasp its opportunities with confidence.

Many bad habits start in the most innocent manner, but if there isn't a decision entered into to shut out that habit as a daily visitor there may be trouble ahead, for the start is everything in the form-ing of habits both good and bad. It has long been a fact that the early training of a child is every-thing.

At camp, with a group of boys we would go for a morning plunge. It was often cold in the water and we would hesitate, but after the first dive the worst was over. It's the start in so many experiences in life that is important, but with courage we can determine upon a good start anyway!

ANTIQUES

Teapots, cups and saucers, jugs, tables, chairs and shaving mugs; Cruets, cradles, sofas wide, Things new styles have thrust aside.

Time was in the years long flown These some one was proud to own, Antiques now, but this is true Time was they were bright and new.

Things grow old and disappear, Men progress from year to year, Then some long discarded chair Proves to be an antique rare.

We are modern, but we know To the attic things must go, But of our possessions some Rare and cherished may become.

Military Alliance Serves Humanitarian Purpose As US Ship Aids Sick Greek Sailor

(Editor's Note: — Last sum-mer we enjoyed a cruise aboard the USS COLUMBUS, a heavy cruiser, as guest of the Secretary of the Navy. About a month later the CO-LUMBUS went to the Medi-terranean for maneuvers. While there its officers and men had an opportunity to do a "good turn" for a Greek sailor. Com-mander Robert C. Morton, ex-ecutive officer of the COLUM-BUS, sent us the following ac-count of that humanitarian act:)

WITH THE U.S. SIXTH FLEET IN THE MEDITERRANEAN — Out of the blackness, while all ships concerned were operating un-der "Darken Ship Conditions," as part of NATO's Hellenic Sky II exercises, the slight form of the United States destroyer L. C. THOMAS cautiously slid alongside the massive hull of the United States heavy cruiser COLUMBUS. Ominous silence prevailed though orders barked from hoarse-voiced boatswain's mates, the shuffle of running seamen, and heavy throbs of both ship's engines cut through the blanket of night.

Aware Of Emergency
Men who were not actively par-ticipating in the operation now at hand stood by, their outlines etched across a moonless midnight sky . . . waiting. For this was not part of the evening's drills and all hands knew an emergency existed.

A highline was thrown across the 40-foot span of choppy Mediter-ranean waters, separating both ships. Other lines followed, more orders were passed and soon, a boatswain's chair carrying its human cargo slowly slid across from the "tin-can" to the cruiser.

This was the emergency . . . the mission of mercy in which a friend helps a friend . . . no matter what perils are encountered.

This episode involved the United States and Royal Hellenic Navies, old friends who fought against the same enemies in past years, now joined together to do battle against the element of time with a man's life the victor's claim.

Opens On Greek Sub
The story starts back to the Greek submarine ARGONAUTIS Y-15 and the United States destroy-er Lloyd THOMAS operating with several other ships of the U.S. SIXTH FLEET off the coast of Greece. The ARGONAUTIS, act-ing as the "enemy sub," was being tracked by the THOMAS when Achilles IOANNIDIS, 21-year-old electrician's mate onboard the Greek sub, was taken with severe abdominal pains.

The sub surfaced and her re-quest to the THOMAS for medical help brought immediate response from the American ship. The de-stroyer lowered a boat to the sur-faced submarine only to encounter difficulty due to the rough seas, in getting the crippled sailor into the boat.

Chancing the rhythmic swells of the waves, the men waited, and when both the sub and the boat were simultaneously lifted on the crest, the Greek sailors passed IOANNIDIS to the waiting arms of the American sailors.

"Acute Appendicitis"
Onboard the THOMAS, her med-ical men examined and diagnosed IOANNIDIS' illness as acute ap-pendicitis. Speeding on to rejoin the Main Force, the THOMAS ra-dioed ahead and was directed to pass their patient on to the CO-LUMBUS, one of the larger ships operating in Hellenic Sky II.

Just before midnight, after his second breath-taking transfer at sea, IOANNIDIS was interned in the COLUMBUS sickbay. After a thorough examination by Doctor John F. McVay, the ship's medical officer, an immediate operation was termed unnecessary and the patient was placed under observa-tion for the night.

Still white and pallid from his severe attack of pain, the young seaman was assured that "every-thing would be all right" by Jim KYROS, COLUMBUS seaman who was called in to act as interpreter. KYROS sat through the night with one of the ship's corpsman, wait-ing for morning and the deciding moment of the lad's condition. A dawn examination by Doctor McVay found IOANNIDIS out of dan-ger and all thoughts for surgery were cancelled.

Rapid Recuperation
His recuperation was rapid, but during his convalescence, several other COLUMBUS sailors with knowledge of the Greek language visited and cheered him on.

It wasn't long before the entire COLUMBUS crew was concerned with their patient-guest's welfare and from this stemmed a sugges-tion of "adopting" the Greek sail-or. A collection was taken up where men volunteered enough money to present their new friend with sev-eral gifts, mementos of the U.S.S. COLUMBUS and her sailors' hos-pitality.

Included in the gifts presented him was a new wrist watch. Even though possibilities for engraving

Arch Ferrell Wins Round In Alabama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Arch Ferrell, former chief prosecutor at wide open Phenix City, Ala., won what his attorneys called the "pre-liminary round" of a criminal charges against him arising from last year's hotly contested race for Alabama attorney general.

A jury last night acquitted him of vote fraud charges, a misde-menor. He still faces a murder indictment, returned in the slay-ing of vice foe A. L. Patterson, the man the vote change here was designed to defeat.

SEE ECONOMIC ISSUES IN '56

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gold-water (R-Ariz.) said today Demo-crats evidently intend to pitch their 1956 presidential campaign primar-ily on economic issues.

Yes, said Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa.), they certainly do. And he added he doesn't believe the Republicans will be happy with the outcome.

The two senators commented in separate interviews after a back stage squabble among members of the Senate-House Economic Committee over a report on the nation's economic health.

Members reached agreement on the report only after outnumbered Republicans had won elimination of some criticism of President Eisenhower's policies and some pessimistic forecasts contained in an original drafted by Chairman Douglas (D-Ill.).

The Economic Committee agreed on a report saying there was an "economic recession" last year — as the Democrats contended — and that "it is not enough just to main-tain present levels of employ-ment and production."

Deleted from it were assertions in Douglas' proposed draft that Eisenhower's economic report to Congress "succumbs to the tempta-tion to view the situation as wholly bright and in amazingly assured terms," and that "there has been an improvement but we are not out of the woods."

BEEES LEAVE TEXAS

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas honey-bees seem to be looking for a sweeter land.
State Entomologist C. J. Burgin reports 20,076 colonies had moved from the state in 1954, apparently because of poor crop prospects. That left 288,000 colonies.

Although Panama is the site of the first Spanish colony on the mainland of the New World, some of its territory has not yet been explored.

MILD DEFENSE FOR MOLOTOV IS GIVEN IN PRAVDA

MOSCOW (AP)—In a mildly-worded rebuttal to a recent attack on Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov by Marshal Tito, Pravda declared today the Yugoslav's pres-ident's charges did not "coincide with reality."

The Soviet Communist party newspaper urged Yugoslavia, in effect, to forget the past and join Russia in working out better rela-tions between the two countries. Any appearance of hostility be-tween them, it added, could only benefit their mutual enemies.

The Pravda editorial, signed by "Observer," was the first Soviet reaction to Tito's speech Monday to the Yugoslav Parliament. In an unprecedented step, all Soviet newspapers published on Thursday accounts of the Yugoslav chief's remarks without comment or re-buttal.

To Cause Surprise

The calm, friendly tone of the Pravda editorial seemed certain to cause as much surprise among Western diplomats here as the publication of Tito's speech.

The newspaper made no spirited defense of Molotov, a former Pravda editor. But it assured Tito he was mistaken in some of his ideas of Russian views on Yugo-slavia.

Highly Unusual

Some Western diplomats had speculated that the original publi-cation of Tito's speech without comment or rebuttal might indicate that Molotov was on his way out of the Soviet policy-making hierarchy. Such handling of a statement from a foreign source by Soviet newspapers is highly unusual.

Relations between Yugoslavia and Moscow cooled in 1948 when Tito was tossed out of the com-inform for refusing to go along with Moscow's bidding on all things.

The process of "normalizing" relations began after Stalin's death in 1953. Belgrade now has diplo-matic relations with Moscow and all the Soviet satellites except Albania.

Penn. State, Kentucky Lose NCAA Playoffs; Dons Meet Oregon State Five Tonight

By ED WILKES
The Associated Press
San Francisco and Oregon State, two Pacific Coast giants who have gotten where they are by contrasting routes, put their big men against each other tonight in the top game of the National Collegiate Basketball Tournament quarterfinals.

San Francisco, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, has been in the limelight most of the season. The Dons have rolled to the nation's longest winning streak (23 games) on defensive excellence and the peculiar perfection of All-American Bill Russell, the 6-10 guy who slams in field goals "like he's stuffing clothes in a suitcase."

But while the Dons received a glitzy invitation as an NCAA at-large pick, Oregon State has struggled all the way to gain attention. The Staters, with 7-7 Swede Halbrook and 6-7 Tony Vlastelica, were snubbed by the experts, and only gained the No. 10 spot in the poll this week after disposing of UCLA, ranked No. 8 previously, with ease in the Pacific Coast Conference title playoff.

Trounce Utah
San Francisco, which gave up its lone defeat to UCLA, then avenged it and dumped Oregon State 60-34 for good measure all in a week's time at season's start, kept moving right along by bouncing Utah 78-59 last night. Russell, bothered with a cold, got 13 points and sat out most of the second half after the Dons had piled up a 41-20 halftime lead.

Halbrook, who scored 21, and Vlastelica, who totaled 14, were on the bench much of the second half in the Corvallis doubleheader as Oregon State defeated Seattle 83-71. The Staters were hot, getting 81 per cent of their shots.

The other second round competition went like this:

La Salle Triumphs
At Philadelphia: Defending champ La Salle smothered Princeton 73-46 and Canisius held out to defeat Villanova 72-71.

At Evanston, Ill.: Marquette disposed of Kentucky 79-71, snapping the Wildcats' NCAA winning string at 12 games, and Iowa outgunned Penn State 62-53.

At Manhattan, Kansas: Bradley jumped Southern Methodist 81-79 and Colorado beat Tulsa 69-59.

The winners play tonight with the survivors meeting in the semi-finals next Friday at Kansas City for the East and West titles. The Friday winners then play Saturday for the national title.

Marquette's victory was only a minor surprise. Coach Adolph Rupp has been sobbing all week over injuries and ineptness losses suffered by his Kentuckians. It was touch-and-go, though, until Marquette broke it open with 7 minutes left to topple the No. 2 team in the Associated Press poll.

BILL SKOWRON GRABS COLLINS' PLACE AT FIRST

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press
Every year the past five years, Joe Collins has had to fight for the first base job on the New York Yankees. Each year he's come out on top of the heap, though.

It's going to be the same old story in '55, except that there probably will be one little variation—he won't make it.

Right now, you could ask Manager Casey Stengel: "Who's on first?" and you'd get a straight answer—Bill Skowron. The job belongs to Skowron so long as he proves he's a big leaguer.

Looked Good Friday
Skowron's a bulk of a youngster, who used to play football for Purdue. He hit .340 for the Yanks last year, playing only off and on. Stengel was impressed with his work with the bat, but the professor was concerned over Bill's main fault—the same one which has kept many other guys out of the majors—poor fielding.

The St. Louis Cardinals polished off the Yanks for the second time in a row yesterday, 3-1, but Skowron looked as though he had been studying George Sisler movies. He fielded flawlessly, looked sharp handling bunts and smashed down the line and, to top it all, made seven assists.

The Cincinnati Reds, out to show the National League they can come through with a lineup of sluggers, polished off the Baltimore Orioles, 7-5. Bob Borkowski and Ted Kluszewski accounted for three of the Reds' runs with homers.

Pressure On Pakko
Hank Aaron, who is making a determined effort to nudge Andy Pakko out of his outfield post with the Milwaukee Braves, hit a two-run homer to provide a 4-2 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Lew Burdette and Humberto Robinson each tossed three scoreless innings for the Braves.

The world champion New York Giants continued their hex over the Cleveland Indians with an 8-3 massacre. That makes it five in a row for the Giants, including the four straight in the World Series last fall. Willie Mays and Eric Rodin hit home runs for the Giants while Al Dark went three-for-three before retiring in the fifth.

Phil's Beat Chisox
Already consigned to the National League basement, Pittsburgh won its second one-run decision in a row by turning back the Washington Senators, 8-7.

The Detroit Tigers defeated the Boston Red Sox, 4-1, behind some nice pitching by Bob Miller, Frank Lary and Billy Hoelt, each of whom gave up only one hit. The Sox only run was unearned.

Bobby Morgan knocked in the winning run to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Comprised of members of the Baltimore professional football squad, the invaders built up a 59-37 lead at the end of three periods and, easily withstood a mild rally by the Alumni in the final period.

Paul Hoffman with 23 points and Torn Kene with 21 led the Colts' attack. Waddell and Livesay secured 12 and 11, respectively, for the losers.

to remove the Cadets from the title picture. All three defending titlists—Syracuse's Ed Rooney and Navy's Joe Gattuso and Pete Blair—won as they pleased and today will face their roughest competition.

Sixteen more matches were decided by falls last night to bring the opening day's total to a rousing 43.

Foths Enjoy Good Fishing Off Florida Coast

Adams County boasts of its fishing goods store, Chambersburg, at the lower center a 10-pound bone fish.

All the fish except the kingfish, sailfish and albacore were caught with light tackle and artificial lures. The light tackle was fly rods and spin rods. The other three fish were caught while trolling in the Gulf Stream.

The mounted fish will be removed to Mr. Foth's office and his home after they are taken from the window display.

The proprietors of the store prevailed upon the Foths to display their catch.

OLSON TO DRAW $30,000 GATE IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — Although his opponent doesn't figure to be around at the finish, middleweight champion Carl Bobo Olson probably will attract a $30,000 gate at Hollywood Legion Stadium tonight for his scheduled 10-round non-title fight against Willie Vaughn of Los Angeles.

The oddsmakers say Olson should be 10-1 to win and 3-1 to put the California middleweight champ away before the tenth. But there aren't any takers. The only persons who are going to take much out of the till are Olson and his manager, Sid Flaherty, who have a contract calling for 40 per cent of the net gate. Bobo will pick up a small chunk for "boxing" Lou Costello on the TV comedy hour tomorrow night, and he quipped that this fight has him more worried than the one with Vaughn.

Vaughn, at 22, is four years younger than Olson. He has plenty of courage and he has been known to rally from a knockdown and punch his way to victory. He usually makes his best fight against what is regarded as superior opposition, and against Olson he may make things interesting as far as the fight goes.

Buying Of New Cars Play Role In Promoting Safety

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL
A good neighbor is someone who drives a car older than yours.

New Cars For Safety
While there are the occasional buyers who can't resist the temptation to see how fast the new possession will go, or who select reverse when they intend to move ahead, the mere buying of a new car can play quite a significant role in raising the level of driving safety. With prices what they are, most buyers have an acute sense of the value of the new article, and having a certain sense of pride in possession they are inclined to make an extra special effort to avoid brushes with other cars. It is this "plus" effort which goes a long way toward accident prevention, and in the case of a new car often the thing is catching. The man with an old car is reminded that if he spares damage to the last remaining unmarred fender perhaps he will get a little better allowance when he goes to trade in for something newer.

Also because there is so much that is new and improved about the newer cars there should be keener interest in knowing more about what makes the wheels go round. This, in itself, can be quite a factor for safety. Dealers report more owners who drop by to ask questions as to how best to handle certain new driving controls. There is thus increased opportunity for schooling which inevitably leads to better driving.

Five million new cars this year could result in five million better drivers.

Just for the record I find that soluble oil as used for inhibiting rust in car cooling systems is really an emulsifiable oil since it doesn't actually mix with water but forms an emulsion. For some time there has been a tendency to throw out the word emulsifying and substitute soluble, but now we are back to the original again. It seems to make more sense. The actual emulsion is due not to the oil but to the emulsifiers used in the oil. I understand that these oils are highly complex, and for that reason should be used with better understanding of their nature. Some of the emulsifiers which are put into these oils are effective rust inhibitors in themselves. So is the oil.

In Event Of Storm
A full gas tank, always a help in preventing water in the gas from condensation, is good insurance against serious exposure to the elements if caught on the road in a blizzard. Only with gas in the tank can the engine be run and the car's heater be effective for a long wait until rescue comes.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:
"Since oil leakage is serious when it develops with an automatic drive it is only natural that so many owners have developed the habit of frequent checking of this unit and that they are inclined to view any oily condition of the unit as evidence of trouble. Here we have to be a bit skeptical because it is always possible that the leakage is at the engine. Any oil that leaks out around valve cover plates or at some loose connection around the oil filter is certain to be sprayed back over the transmission."

Safety Through Alertness
Anyone planning to use the latest of the super-highways should be sure that the car's radio is in good condition because there is no driving situation where there is a better argument for listening in. Continuous high speed driving is hypnotic. Here a good program of music or information can stimulate, offering a good safeguard against drowsiness when at the wheel where there is so little to keep the driver interested. Too many travelers find that when they get on such roads they are too far from radio stations to be able to obtain good reception. This could be avoided by more efficient aerials and better sets. Receivers that automatically tune to the nearest or strongest signal spare the driver the need for hunting with the dials.

Going back 30 years to 1925 we find that there was quite a lot of activity motorwise. Anti-knock gasoline came into the picture the year before but was just getting on its feet when four-wheel hydraulic brakes, steel bodies, oil filters and air cleaners came into the picture. Production including trucks was over four million units, one company succeeding in turning out nine thousand cars a day. A chain of drive-yourself cars was organized on a national scale. Nineteen new makes of cars were offered that year, including the Buick, Vim, Majestic, Diana, Acorn, Backhus and Wright.

Regulation In Action
One of the most unusual inquiries to come to my attention brings up an interesting point. "If the battery, generator and voltage regulator are in perfect working order, asks the reader, 'how should the regulator react from the time I start the car?' I think he really means what should be indicated on the ammeter. This gauge would show that after cranking there is a period of charging. It would be higher than normal for two reasons. First, the battery has been weakened by the cranking and needs a boost. Second, the generator's output is always higher when this unit is cold.

After the generator warms up the charging rate would drop, even if the battery needs more of a boost than it is getting. Then, if the battery needs normal help the chances are that the ammeter would continue to show a healthy rate of charge for quite a bit of round-town driving, and possibly all day on the open road. At higher speeds there is increased drain for ignition. The driver may switch on the radio and is likely to be using the car heater. If the battery reaches a peak and needs no further charging the ammeter will drop back to zero as the regulator cuts down the generator's output.

Now that cars are coming along in every color of the rainbow I'd like to pass along the suggestion of a friend of mine who is still driving a quite good looking pre-war coupe. The fact that the job is painted black seems to be very much in its favor, observers invariably assuming the car is not over five years old. Special colors which are used for one year only are likely to date a car," my friend explains. "Quite aside from your preference in colors black has a practical aspect which few realize."

Just then a car done in an attractive but odd shade of light blue whizzed by. Instantly we know that it was a 1950 model, the company not having used this color for later models.

In The Motor Mail
Q. The engine of my car is using a lot of oil and new rings are needed. Is there any damage in not having the work done now?
H. M.

A. With the plugs fouling the engine will load up with sludge and diluent which, in turn, will gum up the valves and increase wear on the bearings. If you are planning to keep this car by all means have the motor overhauled now.

Q. Two screws around the windshield molding trim are loose.

A. Tighten them.

Q. The temperature gauge on my car goes higher this winter than it did in the summer. There's plenty of water in the radiator and the engine doesn't act as if overheating. J. F.

A. This is due to the higher degree thermostat which you probably had installed for the winter to give more warmth from the car's heater. With cold air blowing on the radiator the thermostat is likely to raise engine temperature considerably, which is what you need at this season.

Q. Is it necessary to have tubeless tires balanced? J. L. F.

A. Yes, they may be in better balance than when an inner tube is used, but usually they need balancing. Make sure to balance rear tires too. This makes for smoother riding. A badly unbalanced rear tire can also cause front wheel shimmy at high speeds.

Q. What kind of polish should be used on the finish of the instrument panel? N. M.

A. These panels usually are done in lacquer or synthetic enamel. Unless quite dull I would simply apply some liquid wax.

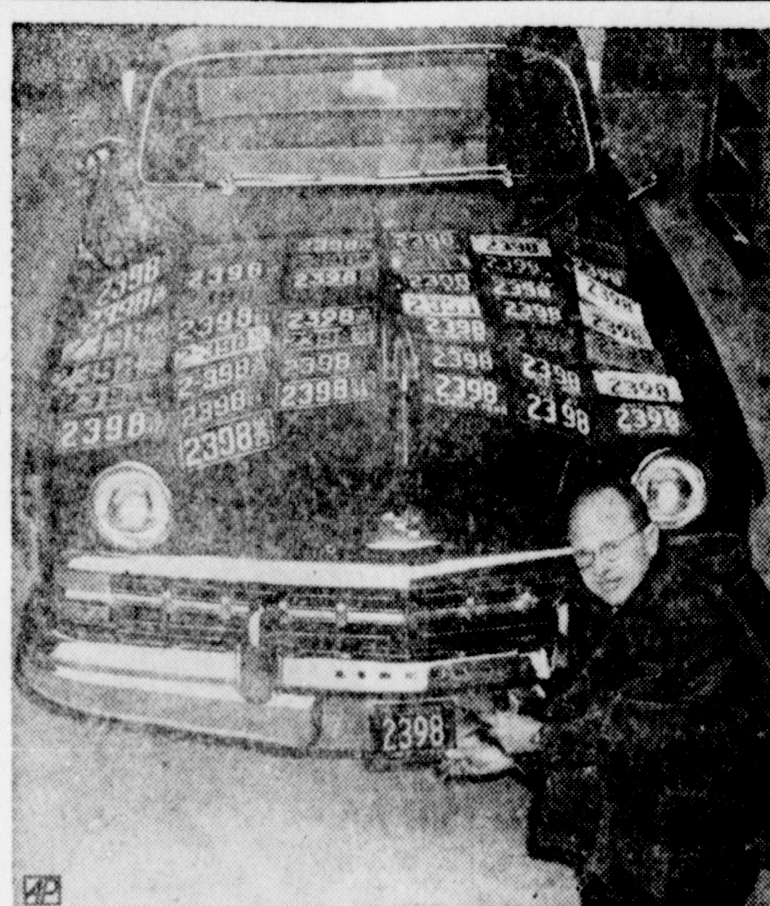

Q. What is accomplished when a mechanic holds the palm of his hand over the air intake of the carburetor while the owner sits at the wheel and touches the starter button? I saw this done to a neighbor's car. They first removed the air cleaner. Wm. L. McB.

A. This closes off air to the carburetor and acts as a perfect choke. That, of course, enriches the mixture, and will often start a stubborn engine. Normally the choke valve should automatically close enough to enrich the mixture for a quick start.

Q. My car doesn't ride as well as it did several years ago. I have all new tires and shock absorbers. F. T.

A. The rear leaf springs may need to be re-arched, and the front coil springs may need to be replaced. However, be sure to check the rear springs shackles which may be worn or binding.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

BIG COLLECTION — Elmer Rietz of Chicago has had No. 2398 since first year Illinois issued license plates. He shows collection on hood as he attaches 1955 plate.

Should I try replacing them with longer screws? W. H. B.

A. Put a little mending cement on the threads of the original screws and then screw them into place. When this dries they will stay tight.

CLOSE BATTLE OVER INCOME TAX CUT SEEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The outcome of the Senate battle over an income tax cut appeared so close today that both Democratic and Republican leaders took steps to guard against absentees.

With a showdown vote set for next Tuesday or Wednesday, word went out to all senators to cancel any engagements which might take them away from Washington for those days.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) and Republican Senate leaders continued to express confidence they had the votes to turn back any tax cut plan by a slim margin.

Trying To Build Steam
But Democratic leaders still were trying to build up steam for their proposal to give a 908 million dollar income reduction to lower-income families.

Both sides agreed yesterday to limit debate starting Tuesday. The agreement calls for four hours of discussion of the tax cut plan, two hours for any other proposed amendment, and two hours of general debate preceding the final vote.

Other than the tax cut, there was little controversy over the bill, which would extend for one year corporation and excise tax rates now scheduled to drop April 1.

In the second day of floor debate yesterday, Sens. Lord (D-La.), Humphrey (D-Minn.), Neuberger (D-Ore.), Barkley (D-Ky.) and Gore (D-Tenn.), among others spoke out for the tax cut.

To moderate floor supplies appeared adequate for a limited demand. Prices slightly higher than yesterday. Carried-over supplies of heavy type have exceeded trade needs and very few sales reported. Wholesale selling prices per pound in Baltimore:

BROILERS OR FRYERS—3 pounds and over 37–37½c.

CATTLE—75. Few scattered small lots largely expected to be held for Monday's trade. Not enough any class cattle sold to establish a price trend. Quotations nominally unchanged.

CALVES—None. Quotations nominally unchanged and up to $25 for prime vealers.

HOGS—50. Not enough on offer to accurately test prices. Small truck lot choice around 210-pound barrows and gilts, $16.75. Scattered sales choice under 400-pound sows, $14.50; 400 to 450 pounds, $13.50.

SHEEP—None. Quotations nominally unchanged. Top quotation for prime under 20-pound woolled slaughter lambs considered to be around $25, and choice under 115-pound woolled ewes around $7.

Emmitsburg

EMMITTSBURG — Students of St. Joseph's High School were entertained Tuesday afternoon, March 1, by the Mount St. Mary's College Glee Club under the direction of Rev. David W. Shaum. The choristers rendered among their selections such favorites as "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Dona Nobis Pacem," a medley of nursery rhymes and a spiritual "Rock of My Soul." The Glee Club's next performance will be the colorful opera "Carmen" and will be staged in the Mount's Memorial gymnasium.

Mary Jane Scott won first prize for her essay on the subject, "What My Vote Will Mean To Me." This contest was sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary Francis X. Elder, Post 121.

Michael Topper and David Wenschhof have entered safety posters in the Maryland Automobile Association contest under the auspices of the Automobile Association of America. The deadline for this poster contest will be March 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Babonic and son, Michael Eugene, of Alliquippa, Pa., spent the weekend with Mrs. Babonic's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Warthen, W. W. Main St.

curately test prices. Small truck lot choice around 210-pound barrows and gilts, $16.75. Scattered sales choice under 400-pound sows, $14.50; 400 to 450 pounds, $13.50. SHEEP—None. Quotations nominally unchanged. Top quotation for prime under 20-pound woolled slaughter lambs considered to be around $25, and choice under 115-pound woolled ewes around $7.

Capehart confirmed in Washington yesterday he would appear on Winchell's program tomorrow night but declined to comment further.

Winchell's name figured prominently last week in testimony before the Senate Banking Committee which is conducting a "friendly" inquiry into the current stock market boom.

Edward T. McCormick, president of the American Exchange, testified that a Winchell broadcast "tip" on Pantepec Oil stock resulted in a net loss to those who bought the stock.

Winchell said the information he gave was accurate, and McCormick also said he knew of no instance where Winchell has misstated the facts.

FEAR FUSS OVER "IRON CURTAIN" ON FARM VISITS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some American officials expressed the belief today Russia wants this country to reject a series of offers to exchange visitors, so Red propagandists can yell "Iron Curtain."

For that reason it was a safe bet the Kremlin's inquiry about exchanging Soviet and American farmer-visitors would get an affirmative response.

The State Department said the whole question is under "active consideration" and a decision will be announced early next week. President Eisenhower already has said he sees nothing but good in allowing it, although some complications must be worked out.

Express No Fear

American officials whose business it is to settle such complications expressed no fear of having Russians visit Iowa farms, as suggested originally by the Des Moines Register, or tour American universities, as a group of Russian student editors already has been authorized to do. No do they express concern about letting Americans do likewise in the Soviet Union.

However, it is the propaganda aspect that bothers them. As they see it, Russia will keep probing the U.S. position on exchange of

"Eskimo Ice Cream" Has No Ice Or Cream

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—One of the things junior high school pupils learned in an exchange of letters with children of Kotzebue, Alaska, is that "Eskimo ice cream" has neither ice nor cream in it.

"Eskimo ice cream is made of caribou fat, seal oil, fish sometimes and berries or raisins and other fruits," wrote one of the children in the remote Eskimo village.

"Sometimes no fish and put in fruits like cooked apple. But it's not cold; anyway you could freeze it and eat it."

persons in search of a soft spot. Should they find one—say, refusal to exchange atomic experts—they could scream about an "Iron Curtain" around America.

Fuss Over Students

The Communists are known to detest the label British Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill hung on them at the outset of the cold war. They find the concept of an Iron Curtain damaging in the East-West propaganda battle.

The Russians made much, propaganda-wise, of the United States' long delay before agreeing this week to admit 11 student editors for a tour of colleges and universities. They were part of a group that originally applied last summer.

Almost at the same time this group was approved, a Soviet note suggested the exchange of the farmer delegations.

SAYS PROBE OF STOCKS BEATS THEORY ON TAX

By ED CREAUGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said today he thinks the Senate's stock market inquiry has pretty well demolished a Wall Street argument that the capital gains tax has a lot to do with keeping stock prices high.

Fulbright heads the Senate Banking Committee, whose "friendly study" of the market and its 16-month-old boom is in recess for the weekend. Its witness Monday will be William McC. Martin Jr., chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

The inquiry has heard conflicting testimony about the capital gains tax.

Differ On Tax

Several witnesses from the financial community argued that it forces prices up. They contended people don't want to sell stock if they have to pay a tax on their profits. The result, they say, is a smaller amount of stock for sale and hence a higher price. So they called for reduction if not elimination of the tax.

The capital gains tax as it affects larger investors now is 25 per cent. That is, if a man sells stock at a profit he has to pay the government one-fourth of the difference between what he bought it for and what he sells it for. The tax applies to securities held six months or more.

Fulbright told reporters he has seen little evidence to support the Wall Street argument that investors are "locked in"—that is, discouraged from selling—by the capital gains tax.

Not Too Hopeful

Fulbright said lowering or eliminating the tax might put more stock on the market for a short time. But the net result, he said, would be to make stocks more attractive so that more and more people would want to buy them and ultimately prices would go back up.

On another aspect of the inquiry, Fulbright said some tightening of securities laws may be called for to cope with mushrooming promotions of highly speculative stocks such as penny uranium shares.

He said he wasn't too hopeful of results, though.

FAMILY OFFENSE

JASPER, Ind. (AP)—Henry Brames, 35, was arrested on a drunken driving charge. Twenty-four hours later, his wife, Catherine, 39, was arrested on the same charge. They appeared in court together and drew 30-day sentences each.

The female phalarope, a small shore bird, does the courting, but after laying the eggs, she leaves and the male incubates the eggs and brings up the young.

PUBLIC SALE

TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 1955
1:00 P.M.

The undersigned, planning to discontinue farming and intending to move from this vicinity, will offer the following at public sale—my herd of mixed cattle and farm equipment at the farm, 4 miles north of Gettysburg, on the old Carlisle Road off Route 34, and 1 mile south of Table Rock.

19 Head Of Milk Cattle

This is an accredited blood and T. B. tested herd since 1945 and has never had a reactor to either test since that time. The herd consists of five Guernsey and 14 Holstein cows, one Guernsey stock bull and nine heifers, four of which will be fresh this fall. Eight cows are fresh at present, four of these cows now have calves by their side and four others will have or close springers by day of sale.

Dairy Equipment
Two-unit urge milker; four-can milk cooler; ten milk cans; one electric hot water heater and other milking equipment.

Farm Machinery

Oliver corn picker; disc drill; corn planter and wagon used three years; Oliver "70" tractor; silo filler; McCormick-Deering 7 mower; 4-bar side delivery rake; manure spreader; corn combine; hay loader and other miscellaneous articles.

Terms: Cash.
